

Copyright

All matters related to copyright should be approached with caution . Below is guidance but individual cases may need to be discussed separately

1. Copyright of the written music parts legally belong to Laurel Swift and before her Matt Norman
2. The Brigstowe Village Band music is not registered with the Performing Rights Society (PRS)
3. Laurel is happy for other groups to play her arrangements, with due acknowledgement to the arranger,- however it should be made clear that pieces in the current BVB repertoire should not be performed by other groups in the South West of England

If in doubt after reading this advice BVB members should talk with Laurel or one of the steering group for advice
